A key component of that is the development, deployment, and utilization of bi-directional electric energy storage. To that end, OE today announced several exciting developments including new funding opportunities for energy storage innovations and the upcoming dedication of a game-changing new energy storage research and testing facility.

Several global conventions, including the Kyoto Protocol and the Paris Agreement, have been established and executed, with over 130 countries announcing their net-zero emissions or carbon-free ecological aims. To achieve this essential sustainable development goal (SDG), efficient energy storage systems are a crucial requirement.

MITEI's three-year Future of Energy Storage study explored the role that energy storage can play in fighting climate change and in the global adoption of clean energy grids. Replacing fossil fuel-based power generation with power generation from wind and solar resources is a key strategy for decarbonizing electricity. Storage

In 2021 the share of global electricity produced by intermittent renewable energy sources was estimated at 26%. The International Energy Agency and World Energy Council say a storage capacity in excess of 250 GW will be needed by 2030. The race is on to find alternatives; and progress is being made on refining new technologies.

It is expected that in 2025, the annual new installations of new energy storage globally and in China may exceed 60GW and 31GW respectively, and are expected to reach 67GW and 35GW. Chart: Forecast on global and domestic new energy storage installations from 2023 to 2030 (Unit: GW) Market share of different new energy storage technologies

Established in 2023, Soluxia Energy was founded on the belief that everyone should have access to clean, affordable, and reliable energy. As a leading solar energy provider in Islamabad, Pakistan, we are driven by a mission to accelerate the adoption of renewable energy solutions and create a more sustainable future for generations to come.

The fast growth of renewables brings new design and operational challenges to transition towards 100% renewable energy goal. Energy storage systems can help ride-through energy transition from hydrocarbon fuels to renewable sources. Nuclear fusion and artificial photosynthesis are the ultimate Holy Grails for permanent clean energy solutions.
