

Who makes battery energy storage systems?

The company, 60% owned by FIB S.p.A and 40% by FRIEM S.p.A, will produce Battery Energy Storage Systems. These systems will be proposed on the global market to serve the power plants for energy production from renewable sources, for the stabilization of networks and to support the Mini Grid (non-domestic) and Off Grid solutions.

Which projects have a battery energy storage system been implemented?

Internationally, we have already implemented major projects such as the Tynemouth stand-alone storage system in the UK and the La Caba; a photovoltaic plant in Chile, which is equipped with a Battery Energy Storage System that ensures its efficiency and stability.

How much energy does Italy need?

The 187MW project in Piemonte will be submitted for approval later this year. Terna (the Italian TSO) estimates in the last Adequacy Report for the Italian Electricity System that Italy will need around 27GW of energy storage capacity by 2033 to add a planned 120 GW+ of renewable generation to the Italian grid.

What is Enel doing in Italy?

Enel is leading this revolution with advanced projects both nationally and internationally, thereby contributing to Grid stabilization and decarbonization. Since the 1980s, Italy has shown a constant propensity to innovate in the field of "classic" renewables, with the use of hydropower and pumped storage systems.

Which projects have been submitted to the Italian Ministry of energy?

The 111MW project in Lombardia and the 97MW project in Puglia have been submitted to the Italian Ministry of Energy for approval. The 187MW project in Piemonte will be submitted for approval later this year.

What is SAET's Energy Storage Next Generation?

SAET's Energy Storage Next Generation is a plug&lay product, already designed, sized, and ready to be installed and used. It also offers extreme flexibility, which is expressed in sizing. This is achieved using a proprietary microgrid simulation system from Falck Renewables Next Solutions.
