

Skills training for rural windhoek energy storage

Windhoek and Berlin have been twinned for over 20 years. Within the framework of Green People's Energy, this partnership is being expanded to include the topic of renewable energies: the Berliner Energieagentur and the Electricity Department of the City of Windhoek want to develop the great potential of renewable energies in Namibia's capital.

It is well-recognised that energy is a basic requirement to human life and activities. This requirement is so fundamental that there have been strong movements for access to energy to be declared a human right (Bradbrook and Gardam 2006; Pandey 2018). While the general use of energy is in the economic sectors of residential, commercial, transportation and ...
